A Multimedia Career Review Programme

Who is this for?

This programme is for you, if you:

- * are currently at a crossroads in your career and want to explore your options. (Should I stay or should I go?)
- * want to transform your life and work in a new direction. (I've decided to go, but where?)
- * are about to change your work life through some self initiated action, or through some change in circumstance (like redundancy, early retirement, etc) (I have to go, now what?)

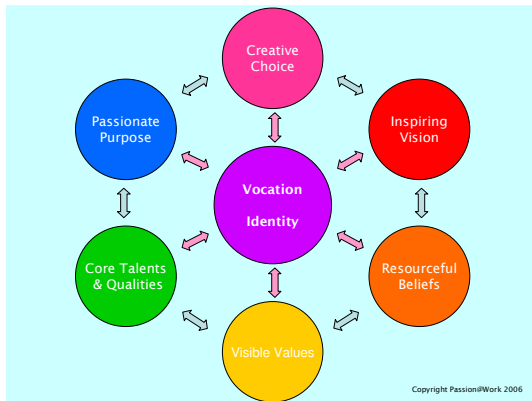

How does this programme work?

This programme is designed to help you make the most of your career review time by combining an online programme with optional face to face days where you can receive direct coaching and support for your next steps. We use the most powerful NLP tools, along with emerging leadership and change approaches. We deliver this using the latest technology and a huge dollop of our creative genius. We want you to enjoy discovering new insights and making these important decisions so we invite you to join us!

What will I get?

- * An e-programme packed with creative ways to work through your personal learning and help with your research and decision making.
- * Access to a secure blog site for sharing, personal feedback and support for 6 months. Regularly updated with fresh resources and ideas.
- * Optional 2 days facilitated small group (max 10) workshop with the opportunity for 1-2-1 coaching and much more.

“Everyone has been made for some particular work, and the desire for that work has been put in every heart.” Rumi

What do our customers say?

‘Thank you for helping me challenge my beliefs and get my new job!’ L.E., Surveyor

‘This workshop will benefit anyone who isn’t wholeheartedly fulfilled by what they do in life. I loved it!’ M.T., Consultant

‘I already believed that I had found my true vocation. I was surprised at how much more there was to explore about the types of people I want to work with and the value and benefit I bring to them.’ J.H., Business Coach

‘This event was like stepping out of my life for a moment and taking a look at it. Very powerful, liberating and it’s changed my thinking forever.’ D.K., Director

‘I needed to make this commitment to myself to take time out and really look at my life and work. This was a great opportunity to do that, and I now have a plan for my next steps. I also feel fantastic about my options despite the current climate. Very liberating!’ G.S., IT Sales Manager
